WASHINGTON, May 3 — The American housewife doesn't know it, but more and more of the food she buys for her family contains the same "ersatz" ingredients which I. G. Farben, the notorious Nazi cartel, developed for German troops and civilians in the last war. The German people lived on "ersatz" during most of the war.

The extent of this Farben-izing of American food, unbeknown to the consumer, has been partially investigated by the food and drug administration, which has been holding hearings on the use of synthetic substitutes for milk and shortening in bread.

However, the whole story has not been told the public, chiefly because of official buck passing. Food and drug officials wring their hands and say they have no authority under the law for a full fledged investigation. They admit, however, that more and more chemical substitutes are being used in various foods and that they do not know what the final result will be on the health of the nation.

Meanwhile Republican Rep. Frank Keefe of Wisconsin, who has been quizzing the food and drug administration, has made some startling disclosures about what goes into many of the things we eat. Keefe charges:

1.—That bread can and is being chemicalized to a point where it has little if any nutritional value;

2.—That non-nutritional chemicals, "mostly the result of the work of I. G. Farben chemists," are being poured off on the unsuspecting public in place of milk, fats and eggs in such foods as cake, doughnuts, cereal mixes, peanut butter, ice cream, candy, salad dressing, milk drinks, synthetic whipping cream, pickles and food flavors;

3.—Manufacturers and pharmaceutical houses that produce synthetic foodstuffs have not made adequate research to determine if the substitutes are poisonous. While there is no proof of toxicity in most of the substitutes, Keefe points out that seven persons died after using substitute salt prepared for people who cannot use organic salt in their diet.

Taste Comes Ahead of Nutrition

The synthetic ingredient which many bakers now use in bread is a compound of polyoxyethylene monostearate. Stearic acid is derived from animal fats, but polyoxyethylene glycol, a substance similar to purified anti-freeze for automobiles, has no nutritional value.

I. G. Farben experimented widely with polyoxyethylene products as a base for "ersatz" German foods during the war.

The American compound is produced chiefly by the Atlas Powder company of Wilmington, Del., and Glyco Products company of Brooklyn and is distributed in slightly different forms under the trade names "Sta-soft" and "Myrj-45." Both keep bread soft for a long period, so that a housewife who feels a loaf in a grocery store thinks she is getting over-fresh bread.

In fact, this deceptive quality—plus a pleasing taste the chemical gives to bread—is the chief selling point of its distributors. Vernon C. Usher, Inc., of Chicago, which makes a somewhat similar synthetic compound called "Top-Sour," frankly states, in his literature to the baking trade:

"In speaking of higher quality, we mean products that not only look good, but are appealing to the sense of taste as well.—Bakery goods that are not overburdened with fats and other richness to the point where substantially less is eaten."

"We believe that every person—man, woman or child—eats and drinks only that which appeals to the sense of taste, with little or no thought of nutritive value; so, we emphasize, again, that higher quality bakery goods, in our opinion, are attained by balancing formulas to a point where they are not overburdened with rich substances which, in the end, tend to discourage and decrease consumption."

Agriculture Department Warning

One government agency that is carefully watching on this nutritional question is the department of agriculture. The department foresees not only higher support prices for surplus dairy products, costing the taxpayers millions, but a serious economic threat to dairy farming if baking chemicals come into wide vogue.

In a confidential report prepared for agriculture secretary Charles Brannan, Ralph Tragg, chief of the production and marketing division, points out:

"It is our opinion that the department should object to the approval of chemical softeners as acceptable ingredients in baking formulas, because of the effect on the health of the nation, since evidence indicates that the substitution of chemical softeners for fats, eggs and milk considerably reduces the food value of the product."

"If the facts warrant, and if the food and drug administration, because of statutory limitations, is unable to prevent or limit the use of synthetics as substitutes for natural foods in bakery products, we would further suggest that the department request new legislation on this matter."

Truman on New Mexico

When the president is pleased, his face lights up and two dimples pop into his cheeks. Thus his face gave him away the other day over prospects of returning to old haunts in New Mexico.

He was invited to slip down to Santa Fe this fall for the 100th anniversary of New Mexico's pioneer paper, the Santa Fe New Mexican. Making the plea was general manager George N. Reynolds, who called at the White House with New Mexico's two senators, Dennis Chavez and Clinton Anderson.

Truman wouldn't make any flat promises to attend, but he recalled with a chuckle his early experiences in the state. He has visited New Mexico in 1909 and again in 1924, he related. Both times he had stopped to rummage through an old curio shop and chat with the owner, the late J. S. Candelario. One prize item Candelario showed off was a trunk which he said had belonged to Lew Wallace, early New Mexican governor and author of "Ben Hur."

Truman recalled how Candelario had told him with a broad wink: "If I sell that one, it will be the ninth one I have sold."

Chuckling so that his dimples showed, the president also recalled another of Candelario's cracks. It seems he used to exhibit a small skull which he claimed was that of Napoleon. Once a doubtful woman customer had asked whether the skull wasn't too small to have been Napoleon's.

"Well, that was his skull when he was a boy," the president quoted the old curio keeper's reply. Truman explained he had returned to Santa Fe in 1924 to help erect a monument to pioneer mothers.

Investigation Is Not Needed

JEFFERSON CITY, May 3.—(P)—The Missouri senate decided today not to investigate the need of a four-year medical school as part of the University of Missouri. The vote shelving the proposal to set up an investigating committee was 12 for and 13 against the plan. It was a standing vote which crossed party lines.

Defeat for Sen. John W. Noble's (D-Kennett) resolution came after opponents had criticized it as boondoggling and unnecessary. "There is no argument about the need of a medical school," said Sen. C. R. Hawkins (R) of Brumley.

Sen. H. R. Williams (R) of Cassville said the investigation would merely "spend the taxpayers' money to find out something we already know."

He predicted any survey would result in a recommendation that a four-year school be established, that the legislature would then get into a fight as it has in the past over location of the school. But the real problem, he said, would be finding the money to operate such a school. He predicted it would cost 12 million dollars to establish it and two million a year to operate it.

Building Permits Issued

Suit For $15,000 Filed On Death

A damage suit was filed in the circuit court Monday by Mrs. W. H. Walters against the Howard Construction Co., petitioning the sum of $15,000.

The petition alleges that Earl Brady, an employee of the Howard Construction Co., through negligence and carelessness caused the death of Mrs. Walters' husband, William Harvey Walters on April 26, 1949.

Mrs. Walters states in the petition that the deceased Mr. Walters, an employee of the T. and O. Lime and Rock Co. Rural Route 4, was operating an Oliver 80 high lift, loading crushed lime and rock from a stock pile and putting the contents into trucks.

On the day of Mr. Walters' death the petition avers he was in the task of filling the truck of Earl Brady, an employee of Howard Construction Co., when the truck driven by Brady backed into the machine which Mr. Walters was operating, and turned the machine over so that it crushed Mr. Walters, causing him to be fatally injured.

The attorney for the plaintiff is Frank Armstrong.

Oklahoma Senate For "Gas" Tax Increase

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 3—(P)—Gov. Roy J. Turner's gasoline tax increase received Senate approval Monday with little trouble. The roll call vote on increasing the five and one-half cent tax to six and one-half cents was approved 36-6.

An amendment to the tax increase, taking away exemptions for airplane gas, will result in the measure going back to the House and possibly to a conference committee.

Senator Raymond Gary, Madill, author of the airplane amendment, argued that Oklahoma's tax is already above that of surrounding states and that an additional tax will drive business across the state lines. He is in the wholesale and retail gasoline and oil business.

He introduced a resolution Monday.

Body Dangling From A Tree

WESTON, Mo. May 3 (AP)—The scorched body of an unidentified man hanging from a tree was found a mile southeast of here Monday.

Cooper wire was twisted around the man's neck and tied to a limb over his head. His feet were touching the ground. His trousers had been burned off by a fire kindled under him.

Coroner Tom Hulett estimated the man had been dead 10 days. Chief Deputy Sheriff Kenneth Kerns said he believed it was a case of murder.

The man appeared to be about 60 years old, 6 feet tall and weighed about 180 pounds, the officials said. He was wearing a blue denim shirt and jacket, a navy coat, army shoes and a hat.

Ashes of a second fire were found about 25 feet from the tree. In the ashes were a straight-edged razor, a safety razor, shaving brush and box of razor blades.

The body was found by Billy J. Miller and Collins Yates farmers of near Platte City, who were hunting mushrooms. The scene is near the edge of a wooded area about a quarter-mile from the nearest road.

A watch and a pocket knife were the only articles in the victim's pockets.

Hot Rod Car Just A Little Too Fast

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. May 3 (AP)—The 10-year-old hot rod of James W. Masters was old, but fast—just a little too fast.

Speeding into the city, he wrecked the machine on a curve.

Today in police court he paid $10 for reckless driving and paid $75 for damage to a park guard rail.

Later in magistrate court he paid a $50 fine on complaint of the highway patrol.

Chas. Engler Found Shot in Home Today

Taken to Hospital; Physicians Report Condition Critical

Charles William Engler, 39, World War I veteran, was found seriously wounded in his home, 1802 South Grand avenue, about 10:45 o'clock this morning. He was found by his brother, Mr. H. "Toots" Engler, 805 West Sixteenth street. Leo Morarity and Fred Geiser, who operate an automobile repair shop next door.

He had a wound inflicted by a bullet from a .25-caliber automatic pistol. The wound was in the back of the head just below the crown. The bullet passed through his head and lodged in a chair over a cedar chest a short distance from where the shot was fired.

It is thought that Engler sat in a rocking chair, and a radio and a newspaper and himself. He was leaning over a pool of blood, and then becoming dizzy had begun wandering between the two rooms and clawing at the walls and floor from blood marks in both rooms.

He was found lying on the floor under an archway between the rooms in an unconscious condition.

Not Seen Since Sunday

When the incident took place is unknown, but it was believed it was several hours, and possibly a day before he was found. Engler had not been seen since Sunday night, according to Mr. Morarity. He has told his brother that he planned on going down to the Veterans Administration office Monday morning.

The search for him started when Mr. Geiser noted about 8:00 o'clock this morning that a loaf of bread was missing from the front door and the screen. When Mr. Engler did not show up around the garage they began to wonder if something could have happened to him. The house was locked from the inside and the men pried open a door which opened into the garage, building and upon entering found him on the floor.

He was taken to the Bothwell hospital where Doctors E. L. Rhodes and C. G. Stauffer gave medical treatment and had x-ray pictures taken of the skull. Doctors reported his condition as critical, but gave him a chance of recovery.

Police Made an Investigation

"Police made an investigation. Engler had always made his home with his parents and his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth J. Engler, died some time ago. Since the death of Mrs. Engler it was said her son had been rather despondent."

Renewal licenses were granted to Simon Kanter, to sell liquor by the drink at 261 West Main street and to M. D. Weathers to sell package liquor at 920 South Linnet avenue.

The Esser Sales Co., of Boonville, was denied a license to sell package liquor at 118 West Main street, the reason given, the city has already issued the number of such licenses permitted under a city ordinance.

A request was made by Alderman Virgil Carey for an ordinance to install the installation of a signal light by the City at Thirteenth street and the M. K. T. tracks, which was referred to the Council.

Move To Purchase Lots

On motion of Alderman Summers it was voted to condemn, purchase and add to park property the two lots on the northwest corner of Saline street and Hurley avenue, adjacent to Housel park. Summers explained there were frequently difficulties when baseball was knocked into the yard of the property.

'Lippy' Leo Durocher is Re-instated

By Gayle Talbot

CINCINNATI, May 3.—(AP)—Leo Durocher, manager of the New York Giants, was reinstated today.

Baseball commissioner A. B. Chandler said he heard no evidence sufficient to support a charge by Fred Boyesen, a Brooklyn fan, that Durocher had assaulted him.

Rejoins Team Wednesday

The little, belligerent manager of the Giants was told he could rejoin his team tomorrow.

In his findings, Chandler, who suspended Durocher last Friday after Boyesen said he was knocked down and kicked at the Polo Grounds, said:

"On Friday, April 29, Commissioner E. A. Tamm announced the suspension of Manager Leo Durocher, following an incident at the Polo Grounds the afternoon before, in which Durocher was allegedly involved."

"At the time of the suspension, a hearing before the commissioner was held today."

"No statement has been made to the press by the commissioner nor by this office since the original announcement."

"Durocher's suspension by the commissioner was a preventive, rather than a punitive action."

"Prominent representatives of the colored race and others had made representations to the commissioner, which indicated the possibility of further incidents."

Interviewed Witnesses

"The commissioner's representatives have interviewed alleged witnesses in New York. The commissioner has had a full hearing in this office of all interested parties in baseball, and has considered numerous affidavits submitted."

"The evidence is contradictory. Manager Durocher was involved in an incident with Fred Boyesen, a Porto Rican, and apparently came in physical contact with Boyesen. The evidence, however, is not sufficient to warrant the belief that Durocher deliberately assaulted Boyesen."

"Under the circumstances, the suspension against Durocher is lifted immediately and Durocher will rejoin his team on Wednesday, May 4."

Not Properly Policed

"There is ample evidence that the Polo Grounds was not properly policed on the afternoon of April 28, or Fred Boyesen would have been permitted to move about in the box seat section, for which he had no ticket and to hurl insulting language, which he directed at Durocher principally, and would not have been on the field at the conclusion of the game (between Brooklyn and New York)."

"Clubs and leagues are responsible for the policing of their baseball parks and people who go to the games have an obligation to conduct themselves with decency. Fair play demands that vicious name calling by fans, in the direction of players, be not indulged in. Ball players have a right to protection from unwarranted abuse."

Labor Bill Passes First Test

party dominated labor committee. This, however, could mean that it would never come to a vote.

The parliamentary situation was such that, before getting to the Leisner bill, the House would have to vote on the Wood measure, a union-opposed bill that would re-enact most of the Taft-Hartley law. The Wood bill has piled up strength among Republicans southern Democrats and if it passed that would be the end of Taft-Hartley.

The new Democratic measure consists of the administration's original bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley law with five compromise amendments inserted and a new section tacked on at the end.

Other Provisions

The bill slightly altered court order provision, the amendments would (a) retain the Taft-Hartley section requiring unions to make regular annual reports to their members, (b) require employers as well as union officers to swear they are not Communists, (c) provide that both unions and employers must bargain in good faith and (d) guarantee the right of free speech in a labor controversy.

The attitude of Rep. Lesinski (D-Mich), labor committee chairman, indicated that some Democrats from the front door districts may be very reluctant to accept the compromise. Lesinski is sponsor of the administration bill and an outspoken foe of the use of injunctions in union-management disputes.

Three Held to Higher Court

Three young men charged with assault, in connection with committing a statutory offense, waived their preliminary hearings before Magistrate W. M. Ilgenfritz, this morning, and were bound over to the action of the June term of criminal court. A fourth, who was to appear, failed to do so up to shortly after noon today, and Prosecuting Attorney William F. Brown said he will be picked up if he does not appear today.

Those who appeared today were Vernon Sutherland, 1824 East Ninth street, E. H. Schlotzhauser, of Smithton and William "Bill" Williams, R.F.D., Sedalia. They were released on bonds of $3,000 each for their appearance in criminal court.

Ivan Harsch, Smithton, the fourth, was to have appeared before Magistrate Ilgenfritz, this morning, but so far has failed to do so. He is at liberty under a $3,000 bond for his appearance.

The four were arrested after an 18-year-old teacher had been attacked southeast of Sedalia, on April 20.

Yardstick Is Given As To Raising Rents

Formula Fixed Is Announced By Expediter Woods

WASHINGTON, May 3—(AP)—The government Monday night made public a yardstick to determine which landlords can raise rents, but left unanswered the big question:

How widespread and how large will the increases be?

Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods announced:

1. Any landlord operating a small structure can get a rent increase if his net operating income is less than 25 per cent of his gross income. He will be given an increase to bring his net operating income up to 30 per cent.

2. Any landlord operating a large structure can get an increase if his net operating income is less than 20 per cent of his gross income. He will get an increase to bring his net operating income up to 25 per cent.

A small structure contains one to four homes. A large structure contains more than four homes. Gross income is the total the landlord takes in on his rental properties. Net operating income is defined as the money left after payment of all operating expenses including taxes and allowance for depreciation. Payments for interest or payments on the principle of mortgages are not included in operating expenses.

Woods announced the action under the new rent control law which Congress passed a little more than a month ago. The law, which extended controls for 15 months, said landlords should get a "fair net operating income" but left it up to Woods to define such an income.

No Nation-Wide Advance

Woods, making public his formula, said it is impossible to estimate now exactly how it will affect rents on the approximately 14,000,000 dwellings still under federal controls.

Woods had said previously the new law would result in no general, nation-wide increase.

His announcement tonight, however, left little doubt that some boosts would be forthcoming.

Woods used this example to show how the new formula will work in the case of a "small" landlord.

The landlord has a total annual income from rents of $1,000. His operating expenses are $600 a year. His depreciation allowance is $200 a year.

This leaves him a "net operating income" of $200 a year, or 20 per cent of his gross rental income. He is entitled to a rent ceiling increase to bring his income up to 30 per cent.

In this case, the increase would be approximately $12 a month to bring his gross rental income up to $1,143 a year.

Except for the lower percentages, the formula would work the same way for "large" landlords.

Consider Depreciation

Individual landlords may apply for rent boosts by filing what Woods called "a simple petition form" in area rent offices. It calls for the listing of present rents and of all current operating expenses, including a charge for depreciation, or normal wear.

The depreciation allowance is limited to 21 per cent of the gross income in the case of "small" structures and 16 per cent in the case of "large" ones.

Associates of Woods said they are prepared to start granting increases under the formula to qualified landlords immediately. Any such boosts will be made retroactive to the date on which the landlord filed a petition for an increase.

When a landlord files a petition for an increase, his tenants will be notified. They will be given an opportunity to protest.

Woods said the percentages were worked out after a thorough study his office made of past experience of small and large landlords. It was based on data collected by OPA in 98 cities from 1939 through 1944.

British Envoy In Death Plunge

MANILA, Tuesday, May 3—(AP)—First Secretary John Herbert Dickinson, charge d'affaires of the British legation, plunged to his death Monday from the Hong Kong-Shanghai bank building.

Police homicide investigators said they were seeking to determine whether he jumped or was pushed. Eyewitnesses told the police homicide bureau they saw the body leave the window of the British legation on the fifth floor of the building.

The window is three feet above the floor. There is a three-foot ledge immediately below the window on the outside of the stucco building.

An unofficial source at the legation said "so far as we know it was accidental."

County Court Orders

Two Old Roads Closed

The Grand avenue ford, south of Sedalia, where cars could cross Flat Creek at low water level, was ordered closed by the county court Monday. The court also ordered the closing of a road twelve miles north of Sedalia near the home of Ray Swope. This road as well as the one at Grand avenue are on the old highways that in former years carried a considerable amount of travel.

A Siamese cat, obtained in New Mexico, by Mrs. E. A. Smith 500 Dal-Whi-Mo, was rescued Monday afternoon around 5:30 o'clock from its precarious perch in a tree top.

The fire department was called by Mrs. Smith and firemen Willis Jabas, the retriever and his assistants Frank Sloan and Harry Stoble returned the "pussy" to its owner. The feline was up the tree about 24 hours having clawed its way to the upper branches about 4 p. m., Sunday.
